

PIKE'S PEAK DOG RETRIEVES FISH BY LANDING THEM OFF THE HOOK

(By Associated Press.)

DENVER, Sept. 16.—Francis Gilpin, sportsman and pioneer of the Pike's Peak region, is the owner of a dog whose greatest joy is to go fishing. Mr. Gilpin believes that his animal is the only dog in the world that will retrieve fish. At least he has never heard of any other.

When on his trout fishing trips Mr. Gilpin never carries a net with which to land his catches. As soon as he has made a strike, his dog runs into the water until it is within distance to pounce upon. The fish is then brought ashore in the dog's mouth and laid beside the master. Not a blench is ever found on the fish as a result of the dog's teeth.

"Mack" is the name of the dog and it is a liver and white Norfolk spaniel weighing about 70 pounds. Mack is a product of George Gould's kennels in the east.

Mr. Gilpin is a member of the Cheyenne Mountain Country club and has lived in and about Colorado Springs for more than 40 years. He has shot big game in the early days on what is a portion of the present site of the city.

In speaking of "Mack," Mr. Gilpin said: "The first time my dog retrieved a fish I was quite astonished and not a little annoyed at the action, but after the trick had been repeated several times it occurred to me not only as being unique but as a great aid to me in landing my catches. Many a fine fish is lost just before the net is put under it, but I do not remember that Mack ever lost a fish once it was hooked; and he has brought hundreds ashore.

"Once the fish is on shore 'Mack' will not go near it. Apparently he dislikes the smell when they are out of the water. Frequently 'Mack' will steal away all by himself and go on private fishing trips. I have found him several times standing in the water alertly watching the opportunity to land a passing trout."

"Mack's" accomplishment is well known to all the residents of Colorado Springs, but to convince the skeptical visitor Mr. Gilpin has remarkable and interesting snapshots which have been taken of the dog in action.

for its furtherance. It is charged that the fighting has incited gambling.
